WHAT DO WE OFFER

Silicon Valley Innovation Center (SVIC) is proud to announce a new partnership opportunity for tour agents and DMC (Destination Management Companies) companies. This partnership will provide a unique opportunity for tour agents and DMC companies to enhance their offerings to clients and tap into the dynamic and innovative spirit of Silicon Valley.

Silicon Valley is the birthplace of many of the world's most innovative and disruptive technologies and companies, including Google, Apple, Facebook, and Tesla. It is a hub of creativity, entrepreneurship, and cutting-edge technology, making it an ideal destination for tourists and business travelers alike.

Through this partnership, tour agents and DMC companies will be able to offer their clients exclusive access to the Silicon Valley Innovation Center and its extensive network of startups, established tech companies, and innovation experts. Clients will have the opportunity to experience the Silicon Valley culture firsthand, visiting the offices of leading tech companies and meeting with founders and executives. They will also have access to a range of workshops, events, and talks designed to provide insights into the latest trends and developments in the tech industry.

In addition to the exposure to the innovation ecosystem, tour agents and DMC companies will also benefit from the SVIC's expertise in organizing and executing customized programs for clients. SVIC will work closely with partners to design tailored itineraries that meet the specific needs and interests of each group, ensuring a unique and memorable experience for clients.

This partnership is a great opportunity for tour agents and DMC companies to differentiate themselves in a competitive market and offer clients a one-of-a-kind experience in Silicon Valley. For more information on how to become a partner with SVIC, please contact us at info@svicenter.com.
